South Kingsville Pre-School celebrates indigenous heritage

Local Koorie performer, Robert Bamblett, will be sharing stories and dances from the local indigenous community with children from the South Kingsville Pre-School on Tuesday, 19 July.

Robert will work with our 4-year-old Kookaburra and Rosella kindergarten groups, telling traditional stories and encouraging them to try out some dancing.

South Kingsville Pre-School Director, Elissa Stafford, says: ‘Our kindergarten values all the cultures that make up our community, so we were thrilled when the opportunity came up to share some of our local indigenous culture with the children.’

South Kingsville Pre-School offers play-based kindergarten programs for 3 and 4-year-old children and is holding an Open Day on Sunday, 14 August from 11am to 1pm.

There will be activities for the kids and our staff will be on hand to discuss our programs with prospective parents.

The Pre-School will be extending its program hours next year, providing two days of 5 ½ hours for its 4-year-old groups and 5 hours for two 3-year-old groups.

Further information

When: Robert will be performing with the children at 11.30am and 1.30pm, on Tuesday 19 July. Media are welcome to attend and take photographs.

Where: South Kingsville Pre-School, 43 Paxton Street, Kingsville South.

Contact: Elissa Stafford, 0412 480 030 or 9399 3000